Venice Polling Places Set for April 18 Vote

The Venice city council Friday night set up polling places in the city's four wards for the April 18 election in which Venice voters will elect four aldermen to full four-year terms and one for a two-year unexpired term.

The council adopted a resolution fixing the polling places as follows:

Ward One—100F Hall, Second and Granite streets; Ward Two—City Hall, Klein street and Broadway; Ward Three—Cory Corner Cafe, 100 Douglas street, and Ward Four—109 Weaver street.

The resolution also authorized City Clerk William "Mike" Eberhardt, to order the printing of ballots and to obtain other election supplies.

The council also adopted a resolution amending the McKinley bridge repair and improvement fund to provide a "miscellaneous" budget item of $10,000 to finance the installation of signs on the bridge structure.

Total Is Unchanged
The resolution reduced the appropriation of $192,000 for bridge railing repair to $182,000 and increased the balance of $10,000 for the miscellaneous cost item. Consequently the total of the budget remains unchanged.

An application for a building permit to construct a four-family apartment building at Merceda and Market streets at an estimated cost of $21,457 was approved. The permit was issued to William H. Frankie Griggs, 1650 Market street.

21 Injured In 13 of 30 Traffic Accidents

Weekend Toll Rises

In Quad-City Area; 10 Hurt in 3 Mishaps

Multiple injury accidents sent the traffic toll up to 21 injured in 13 of 30 accidents reported to Quad-City hospitals during the weekend. Four persons were injured in one accident and three each in two other mishaps.

A collision of two autos traveling in the opposite direction on Madison avenue about 11 p.m. Saturday injured four persons. David Walker, 28, of 2912 Oregon avenue, was charged with reckless driving.

Police said his auto skidded over 300 feet after the crash in the 1700 block where he was going north, and the other auto was traveling south, operated by Walter Mudge, 23, of 2912 Oregon avenue, who suffered minor injuries. Passengers in the Denson auto who also suffered minor injuries were Linda Denson, 23, and Charlotte Kipp, 23, of 2433 Hodges avenue.

Walker was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a cut to his forehead and abrasions to his left knee.

Three Persons Injured
Three persons were injured when autos driven by Hughes R. Cowley, 21, of 1814 Delmar avenue, and Mrs. Philomena E. Coligan, 2153 Cleveland Blvd., collided at 1:45 p.m. Thursday on the Belleme Village shopping center lot. The Coligan auto was struck by Cowley who was unable to see because of a row of parked cars, the police reported.

Cowley and his wife, Mrs. Elvada Cowley, 17, were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital and were released. He suffered pains in both legs and right knee. She had multiple abrasions to the face and a hematoma and abrasions to the left leg. Mrs. Coligan suffered minor injuries.

3 Hurt in Collision
A Caseyville mother and two of her three youngsters were injured about 2:40 p.m. Saturday in a two-car accident on Edwardsville road at Louisa street. They were passengers in an auto driven by John Whitwell, 35, of Caseyville.

The injured were Mrs. Charlene Whitwell, 29, and Paula, 13, and Johnny Whitwell, 11. Police said Whitwell was going south when he car, driven by Edna O'Guinn, 2003 Sixth street, Madison, was making a left turn onto Louisa.

She was charged with failure to yield right-of-way. Evelyn A. Crippen, 41, of 2343 East 24th street, and William H. Hayes, 24, of 127 Olive street, were injured when their autos collided at 5 p.m. Thursday at Henry street and Propes avenue.

Board Chosen Later
Actual decisions would be made by a seven-member board chosen in a second election, if the April 1 vote is affirmative.

The feasibility study prepared in connection with the Lewis & Clark junior college proposal, and meant to present the most favorable possible picture, suggests adaptable, multi-purpose facilities, zoned to assure a desirable cultural and learning environment and situated to serve the total area of the district.

An attempt would be made to build economical structures of affording low maintenance and attractive appearance. They would be "designed to fit" the educational program, particularly at St. Elizabeth Hospital. (Continued on page 3, col. 1)

8 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC DEATH

Bartylak Indicted, On Theft, Official Misconduct Counts

Joseph R. Bartylak of Collinsville, former Madison county state's attorney, was indicted on charges of official misconduct and 16 counts of theft by the county grand jury. It was disclosed officially today during arraignments conducted by Circuit Judge James O. Monroe.

Bartylak failed to appear for the arraignments this morning, but he was expected to show up in court later today.

The former county official, who resigned deputy state's attorney last month and money from estate cases which he handled in private practice. He had undergone a siege of illness and hospitalization prior to his resignation.

Bartylak had served four years as chief deputy state's attorney under former State's Atty. Dick Mudge before he was elected to office two years ago. He was succeeded by Leon Scroggins of Granite City on an appointment by the county board of supervisors. Scroggins also had served as chief assistant.

Arraignments were held today for defendants in 12 criminal cases.

Burglar Caught In Restaurant; 3 Youths Arrested

A burglar was caught in a restaurant and three youths in a stolen auto were arrested as a total of 21 cases of theft and burglary were reported to Quad-City and county authorities during the weekend.

Granite City police trapped an auto young inside the Western Wheel restaurant, 304 Edwardsville road at 3:40 a.m. Friday and charged him with burglary and unlawful use of a weapon.

He is Jerry Sidwell, 18, formerly of Granite City, who has a long arrest record here. He was armed with a switch blade knife.

In the magistrate court here, Sidwell was bound over to the grand jury on the burglary charge after declining to enter a plea on the weapons count. He was released on his own $1000 recognizance bond for a hearing on the weapons charge March 24.

The cigar and pinball machines were pried open at the restaurant. Injury was gained by forcing the front door.

Trin Arrested in Stolen Car
A 1959 auto owned by Viola Cox, Highway 67, was recovered in St. Louis Thursday when police there arrested three persons who were in it. The car had been stolen at 12:45 p.m. Thursday from the 1809 block of Edison street.

Taken into custody were Robert Stanley Pickel, 21, Mitchell Johnson, 17, and Robert Kenneth McLaughlin, 17, all of St. Louis. Four juveniles who also were in the car were turned over to their parents. St. Louis police planned to turn the case over to the FBI for prosecution.

Sheriff's deputies were investigating Saturday a report that a safe was missing from the bedroom of the home of Carl West.

10 Candidates Ruled Off GC Ballot; Several Planning Court Action

6 Seeking 3 School Board Posts in GC

Madison, Venice Board Incumbents will be Unopposed on April 8

Six candidates will seek election to three Granite City school board seats in the April 8 election, it was reported following the close of the filing period at noon Saturday.

Last candidate to file was John C. Lakin, 3032 Edgewood drive, a foreman at the A. O. Smith Corp. plant.

In the Madison and Venice school districts, however, there will be no opposition to incumbent board members whose terms expire this year. Three board members are to be elected in Madison and two in Venice.

Of the six candidates in the Granite City school district election, five will campaign for two of the regular three-year memberships open to election this year.

Lacks Opposition
This results from failure of any candidate to oppose William Harris, 3136 Princeton drive, incumbent board member who filed specifically for the one-year unexpired term open to election this year. Harris was appointed to his present board post, but under the school election code the remainder of the term was subject to balloting in the next school election.

School board candidates were required to specify in their petitions if they are seeking a regular three-year term or the unexpired term. Since Harris is the only candidate seeking the unexpired term, his election already is assured.

Auto Hits Train—Then Flees Scene
A hit-run accident involving a freight train and an auto was reported to police at 4 a.m. Sunday.

Harold Swilley of Monroe street, engineer on a Granite City Steel Co. switch engine, told officers his train was crossing Madison avenue when an auto hit one of the freight cars. The motorist then sped off, south on Madison avenue.

There was no damage to the freight car, but broken glass was found at the scene of the impact.

Opinion Rules Against All At-Large Petitions; Election 14 Days Away

Ten Granite City aldermen morning when it was prepared by City Clerk Homer "Cal" Pendleton.

In giving a copy to a Press-Record reporter, Pendleton commented, "Here it is. Now I'd better climb into a suit of armor."

The ballot as prepared by the clerk will be published in specimen form shortly before the election. Pendleton also is planning to send a copy to a printer this week to get the official ballots printed for the election.

Those candidates left off may have slight consolation in learning that in each ward, and also for unopposed Street Supt. William Warfield, there is a place for a write-in.

All of the candidates are running as independents with the exception of Walter Norn, incumbent Fifth Ward, who is unopposed and is running on the Taxpayers Party ticket.

On the ballot will be—

School Board Session
Elementary school sites will be discussed and a report of the public relations committee headed by Central Principal Charles Weis will be heard at a Granite City school board meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Also planned are hiring, bid awards, job descriptions, salary discussion and study of Niedringhaus school repair needs.

Other Court Action
Several candidates who lost out in Saturday's decision are planning to file a writ of habeas corpus.

While the outcome of the appeal is not expected to be known until after the April 4 election, political observers are not ignoring the possibility of quick action by the appellate court. They expect the at-large order to be overruled.

Pledges Total $82,161

Hospital Employees Top Their Goal in Drive

St. Elizabeth Hospital employees have pledged their full support to the $1,000,000 hospital expansion program by subscribing a total of $82,161, topping their minimum goal by more than $7,000, it was announced today by Miss Jackie Haug and Paul Hopper, co-chairmen of the St. Elizabeth Hospital Employees Division.

The announcement is being made in time for this evening's Community Dinner at Granite City high school cafeteria.

Indications that the division's minimum goal would be surpassed, first were announced at a report meeting Thursday evening, when an unannounced total of more than $7,700 in pledges was returned in by volunteer workers.

Hopper told the volunteers that teamwork had made the employees division two-week campaign a success. "Speaking for Miss Haug and myself, we want to thank you from the bottom of our hearts for your diligent efforts," the co-chairman said.

Hopper added that the $82,161 total may be increased further as employees not yet contacted pledge additional support.

OBVIOUS PRIDE in topping their goal by more than $7,000 within a two-week period is reflected on the faces of Miss Jackie Haug and Paul Hopper, co-chairmen of St. Elizabeth Hospital Employees Division.

110-Acre

strives to meet specific needs in the area.

Three-campus plan Although not fully supported by the State Junior College Board, which says initial concentration on a single campus instead of three might be advisable, the Lewis & Clark Educational Foundation headed by County School Supt. Wilbur R. L. Trimpe recommends "three attendance centers at the opening of the junior college," all three offering instruction in temporary rented buildings this fall.

"Each center would be in the area of a possible future permanent campus site—one near the greater Alton area, another in the south portion near Granite City and a third in the east portion between Collinsville and Highland."

"Each site should be suitable for expansion. While initial enrollment is estimated at 1000, after permanent buildings are constructed the two metropolitan campuses may each have more than this the second year, and the less densely populated area about one-fourth," the foundation says optimistically.

Illinois junior college board standards call for a minimum of 50 acres for the first 2500 students and one acre for each additional 100 students.

110-Acre Site Here Proposed

The foundation suggests 100 acres for the first 2500 students plus two acres for every additional 100 full-time students. It envisions a tract by 1977 there would be two 110-acre sites and one 50-acre site.

"A three-year building program could provide facilities for 3000 students distributed on the campuses to their place of residence, consisting primarily of main classroom buildings, guidance, student areas and physical education facilities would follow."

$10 Million Basic Construction

"Basic buildings for these sites would contain 200,000, 200,000 and 50,000 square feet. Using either a $16-to-$20-per-square-foot construction cost or a recognized current estimate of $2500 per full-time student, a $10 million construction cost of about $10 million is anticipated."

"To this the estimated cost of the sites should be added. Using $5000 per acre, two 110-acre sites and one 50-acre site would cost $1,500,000, $500,000 and $500,000," the foundation notes.

"Finances necessary to support the institution should come jointly from the state, local taxation and tuition."

"The State Junior College Act requires that the assessed valuation be at least $75 million and the population in excess of 50,000. Assessment of the proposed district is over $1 billion and the population is almost 300,000," in each case about ten or more times the minimum.

"Ratio of students to faculty in the community junior college should be sufficiently low to effect an adequate learning situation, not exceeding 20 to 1. Salaries offered should be commensurate with those of comparable desirable faculty; salaries of administrators should be equally attractive."

First Two Years

"In the area of instruction, sufficient funds should be provided to commence high level instruction, library and to provide testing materials and a host of other items. It will be necessary to budget rental charges for temporary quarters through perhaps the first two years of its operation."

"Assuming 2000 students for the first years with an expectancy of 3000 within the next several years, and the state providing $11.50 per semester hour, the proposed operating budget is $1,655,318, including $119,000 administration, $1,342,318 instructor, $175,000 operation and $19,000 maintenance."

"Tuition of $5.50 a semester hour or $22.50 per semester ($165 for the academic year, per full-time student) would result in income of $330,000 on a basis of 2000 students."

"Again assuming 30 semester hours for a school year per student, state aid would total $345 for each student or $980,000 for 2000."

42% State, 20% Fees, 38% Taxes

Rev. Mattingly will be Maundy Thursday Speaker

Rev. Lawrence J. Mattingly, pastor of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, will be the principal speaker at the Maundy Thursday church and worship service to be held at noon Thursday in the First U.S. (L.E.) Presbyterian Church. The event is sponsored annually for men's service clubs in the Quad-City area.

Among the organizations expected to participate are the Granite City and Madison Rotary clubs, Granite City and Madison Optimist clubs, Madison

"Deducting the $1,020,000 tuition and state aid from estimated total operating costs leaves $55,318 to be secured by an education fund tax rate."

The 42% state, 20% tuition, 38%-tax ratio projected for the election fund compares with the state board's general recommendation of 50%-state, 30%-tuition, and 17% from property taxes.

The total building and site cost of possibly $1,540,000 can be reduced by the 75% borne by the state. This leaves $387,500 to be met by the junior college district.

"This was paid off in 10 years at 5% interest, $309,000 would have to be expended each year. To this must be added an estimated $100,000 as yearly rental fees."

The projected enrollment and costs indicate a total yearly expenditure of $1072 per student.

Vast Site Proposed

"With an assessed valuation of $1,125,000 and an area of 1716 square miles, this would be one of the largest community colleges in the state and nation."

"In brief, what is the case for a 'Yes' vote April 17?"

The group formed to obtain public opinion presents the following argument:

"A community junior college is a unique institution of higher learning, combining the philosophy that educational opportunities should be available for all people, affording a diversified curricula both broad and continuing, as an element in the equalization of educational opportunities."

"It would offer courses in general education, both terminal and having transfer value, vocational courses related to local needs, and varied adult education programs."

More Funds Now Than Later

"The 1965 junior college law makes it financially desirable for areas in the state to form districts. In 1971, state support of construction costs is to drop from 75% to 50%. Such a college can be a valuable cultural institution and educational center."

"The proposed area has seen rapid growth in population and industry during recent decades."

"With the advent of many expressways crisscrossing and entering this area, it is on the threshold of considerable and predominantly urban expansion."

Technical Instruction

"In surveys within the proposed district, interest in career-occupational or vocational-technical programs exceeded to some degree the interest in college-parallel course-work ultimately leading to a degree. Area businesses and industries indicated a great need for additional people in a wide variety of middle-level manpower positions."

"Throughout the 50 states, interest in and growth of community colleges are burgeoning."

"Illinois has taken a recent lead in the encouragement and formation of these colleges throughout its length and breadth. On every hand there is mounting evidence that our rapidly-changing manpower needs call for regionally-located, community-oriented and community-controlled colleges designed to serve the educational needs of all persons, regardless of their occupational goals, who are beyond high school age."

Originated in Illinois

"The junior college is a 20th century institution and an Illinois heritage. In 1892, citizens and elected representatives of the Joliet, Ill., board of education authorized establishment of the first two-year institution in the U.S. offering college-level instruction."

"Publicly-supported junior colleges have been expanding rapidly—especially since the end of ning to fight through the courts to get on the ballot.

Norman Alexander pointed out Saturday afternoon that he had filed as a Seventh Ward candidate on Feb. 6 before the at-large election was handed down.

After the Feb. 9 at-large order was handed down, Alexander, he re-filed as an at-large candidate and asked if his Seventh Ward petitions could not be included in the name count for his at-large petitions. Alexander said he was advised by Clerk Pendleton that he could, if asked the clerk if it was then filed both ways, and he told me I was," Alexander said.

He plans to see a lawyer.

Also contacting lawyers are Stucke, who filed at-large, and Kell, who filed at-large, sixth Ward.

Gasparovic to Seek Write

Andrew Gasparovic, Jr., who also is planning court action in the form of a writ of mandamus, issued the following statement today:

"On Thursday at 9:30 a.m., I received a phone call from City Clerk Pendleton informing me that he was challenging my candidacy for alderman of the Third Ward, based on a written opinion he had received, and that my name would not appear on the ballot, thereby depriving the citizens of the Third Ward of their constitutional rights to select a candidate of their own choosing to represent them on the city council."

"It is my contention, based on 18 years of experience dealing with the law as police judge of this city, that this action is highly improper and contrary to the election laws of this state."

"When I filed, I presented a statement of candidacy and petitions, properly prepared and signed by legally qualified residents of the Third Ward to the city clerk who accepted and accepted me for them, strictly according to the Illinois election laws."

"At no time prior to the oral notice, was a legal objection made regarding the validity of my petitions. The election laws provide for the manner and time in which petitions may be rejected by the city clerk or other designated officials prior to an election."

"I hold no personal grievance against Clerk Pendleton, a close personal friend of long standing, nor Alderman Boyd seeking reelection in the Third Ward, who would be unjustified if my name is omitted. I have no doubts whatsoever that Clerk Pendleton is carrying out his duty as he sees it, and I am positive that Alderman Boyd has no connection with this matter."

"I am instituting proceedings to petition the circuit court for a writ of mandamus to have my name placed on the ballot. I am still a candidate for alderman of the Third Ward."

Two "Dropouts"

Two candidates issued a joint statement Saturday saying they were not interested in running "because of the legal complexities and confusion."

They are R. Grad Krause, a Seventh Ward candidate, and Dr. Byers, an at-large candidate. Dr. Byers is off the ballot, but Krause's name will appear. He has decided not to campaign.

The confusion has held down campaigning, other than by the "old pros" who forged ahead, with Saturday's announcement principals applicable to election on a ward basis pertain to our present situation.

"There is no such office as an alderman-at-large in the state of Illinois. There are no provisions for an alderman-at-large in the Illinois statutes either in Chapter 46 dealing with elections nor in Chapter 24 dealing with Cities and Villages."

7 Ward Candidate

Should the Appellate Court uphold the seven ward decision, quo warranto proceedings could be filed to unseat all eight aldermen elected on April 4, re-aligning in the possibility of an election.

A number of citizens and Mayor or Partner are irked over the city council's voting for the at-large appeal cost to be paid from city tax funds—$1000 to $1200—the at-large election developed into a popular proposal, with Granite Cityans offering an opportunity to vote on all aldermen, rather than just those in their ward.

All that ended with the appeal bond and the aim chance for the Appellate Court to hand down a decision in time for the April election.

The decision to drop 10 candidates was based on the following opinion given Saturday to Clerk Pendleton by City Atty. Allen:

Text of Opinion

"On March 15, you requested a legal opinion as to the names of candidates which should be included on the ballot for the regular city election to be held on April 4."

"The city of Granite City is divided into wards in accordance with Illinois statutes pertaining to the subject. The election districts, then, are the wards in the city."

"Notwithstanding the recent ruling by a circuit judge as to an at-large election, all of the either in answer to the question of the office to be filled or the district has filed erroneously. A legal opinion sought by any of these candidates could have clarified the question for them before they filed for office."

Skewed Filing

"In one instance it is alleged that a candidate has filed for an office in a district which he does not reside. According to Illinois statutes, a person must be a resident of an election district in which he is running for office. The proper procedure would be to challenge the petition of a person who has filed in the wrong district."

"As you know, the time has passed for filing objections. The only recourse in the event a non-resident is elected to an office in a district in which he does not reside is for proper legal action to be taken; to challenge the election of that person to hold said office after the election."

"I do not think it is proper for the clerk to exercise discretion in a fashion that the face of his petition or statement of candidacy bears the statement 'at-large' on the ballot."

In my opinion, any candidate who has filed for office in such a fashion that the face of his petition or statement of candidacy bears the statement 'at-large' on the ballot.

Miss Cynthia Markarian is Bride of Vincent Calamia

Nameoki Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Cynthia Markarian, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Markarian, 2105 Clark avenue, and Vincent Calamia, whose parents are Mrs. Leon Arnold, and the late Charles Calamia of St. Louis.

Rev. Franklin Pierce performed the 6:30 ceremony, and a reception was held afterward at the Lewis and Clark restaurant, East Alton. Miss Cynthia North presided over the guest book.

Bouquets of white gladioli and pom poms decorated the altar, lighted with burning candles in candelabra, and candles in tall standards entwined with smilax and white ribbon illuminated the aisle through which the processions passed.

A program of wedding music was furnished by Mrs. June Branding, vocalist, and Mrs. Edna Hensley, organist. Mrs. Branding's songs were "Because," "The Wedding Prayer" and "I Love Thee."

The bride wore an ivory tulle gown of imported Alencon lace long traditional sleeves and the Josephine Empire silhouette were complemented by an illusion mantilla which flowed into a cathedral train highlighted with matching lace. Petals of lace topped the unusual mantilla and the bride carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis centered with a corsage of the same flowers.

The attendants, Miss Tonye Ann Green, maid of honor, and Miss Patricia Faraghat and Miss Linda Romine, bridesmaids, were dressed alike in gowns with moss green velvet bodices and soft "A-line" crepe skirts. Petite flowing panels added to the elegance of the silhouettes. They wore matching velvet headpieces and held cascade arrangements of white carnations and leather leaf fern tied with green ribbon.

Warriors Hope to Open New Baseball Campaign

The Granite City baseball warriors played their first intrasquad game last week in preparation for the season opener at O'Fallon Wednesday.

"The team looks exceptionally good for the amount of time we have had to work," Coach Joe Fedora reports. "We have scheduled this O'Fallon game for four years in a row, but as of yet have not played because of bad weather each year. The O'Fallon coach and I are hopeful, though."

Coach Fedora was uncertain as to the starting lineup for the opener, and said that the next several days will tell him more about individual playing ability.

"I will probably wait until the night of the game to decide, and then it will be a lot of guesswork," he said.

Fedora commented that pitching seems to be developing better than fielding and batting so far.

When asked if any players had sustained injuries so far, Fedora said "The weather has been our only injury; if we could doctor that up we would be fine."

Three former Granite City wrestling warriors are varsity starters on the squad coached by tomorrow's winter sports banquet speaker, Kenneth G. Tullman, wrestling coach at Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau, Mo.

The banquet, beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the new high school cafeteria, will honor wrestling and basketball athletes.

Tullman, who is also chairman of the men's physical education department and the physical education graduate program at Southeast Missouri State, oversees the wrestling performance of former Warriors Paul Lapinski and Lester Robertson in the 130-pound weight class and Ernie Kern in the 177-pound weight class. Lapinski and Kern are chased at the high school.

He organized the first annual Southeast Missouri State Wrestling clinic in 1964, and, more recently, presented a wrestling clinic for St. Louis area coaches and high school wrestlers in November 1966.

The thirty winter sports athletes will be honored at the banquet. Tickets at $3 each may be purchased at the high school.

Pekin Makes State Title Win Look Easy

Southern Illinois hopes ran high at the state basketball tourney in Champaign even after Collinsville's 53-47 loss to Carbondale in the quarterfinals Friday night. But it was Pekin that went home with all the marbles, defeating Carbondale 75-59 in the final Saturday night.

Enjoying a generally easier schedule of opponents and getting more rest between games due to its upper bracket status, Pekin made it look easy against a tough Carbondale squad now used hard-to-believe fourth-quarter rallies to sideline the state's "top three," the Kahoks and then Rockford West.

Carbondale may still have been tired from a 67-66 overtime triumph over Rockford in the semifinals four hours earlier—L. C. Brasfield hit a long one-handed shot in the last three seconds—but Pekin nevertheless impressed the capacity audience with its deadly outcourt marksmanship, its agile rebounding and its tight defense that limited Carbondale to six points in the disastrous second quarter.

Dawson Hawkins, who also coached Pekin to the state championship in 1964, said that Saturday's title game that he had borrowed the pressing defense from Collinsville. But Collinsville was not able to use it to as much advantage against Carbondale, which inflicted two of the Kahoks' three 1966-67 defeats.

DWAIN BRIDGES

Bridges Vaulting High For Southeast Missouri

Dwain Bridges, former Warrior pole vaulter, placed second in pole vaulting at a Missouri intercollegiate indoor track meet held Saturday in Columbia, Mo.

Bridges topped the bar at 13 feet, six inches. Previously he set a new indoor school record at Southeast Missouri State, where he is a freshman, with a vault of 13 feet, 9 1/4 inches.

The former Warrior set a GCHS school record of 13 feet seven and one-eighth inches. A June 1966 graduate, Bridges is majoring in art with a minor in physical education and is attending school on an athletic scholarship. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bridges, 3405 Franklin avenue.

SWIMAPC Speaker Relates Laws to Benefit Counties

Legislative measures involving the Madison-St. Clair County area and the procedure followed in introduction and adoption of state laws were outlined by State Rep. James "Bud" Krause of East St. Louis at a meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission Thursday night.

Rep. Krause addressed the group at a dinner meeting at the Round Table restaurant, Route 157, Collinsville. SWIMAPC served Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

The legislator, former president of the St. Clair county board of supervisors described particularly four new laws now before the General Assembly that will benefit the area.

One of these, he said, is a working cash fund bill, which he sponsored, allowing counties to develop a $500,000 surplus from which it may borrow instead of selling tax liens.

Coal Operate Landfills. The saving of large amounts of interest is the primary benefit of such a bill, he said. Other important bills include one permitting counties with public building commissions to operate landfills and incinerators, another that would prohibit dumping in Illinois by persons from outside the state, and a measure that would permit counties to establish a department of public works. The latter is in preparation stage but will be introduced before May 1, Krause said.

The bill, if passed, would permit counties to handle sewage treatment and water supplies in unincorporated areas, thus bolstering the development of these areas.

SWIMAPC delegates heard a report that the Illinois Legislature has appropriated $75,000 for the commission for the next two-year period. The appropriation is the same as that of the last biennium, although the commission had requested a fund of slightly more than $100,000.

Directors of Paddlers, Inc., a sanctioned invitational swim club, are making preparations to start a series of improvement projects on the club grounds at 2121 Johnson road.

Albert Malotki, executive president, discussing the proposed improvements at a recent meeting of the executive board, said the plans call for landscaping the picnic area, construction of several barbecue pits and the installation of horsehoe and shuffleboard game areas.

No date was set for the pre-season project to be initiated. However, Malotki said that preliminary planning has been completed and work is expected to begin as soon as weather permits.

Homor Johnson, Paddlers' representative to the Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association, who announced that plans are being made by the eight-team conference to sponsor an AAU-win Hoff and Clarence Etheridge.

Coal Sulfur Limit to Cause Economic Loss

Substantial loss of income and widespread hardship for mine workers in the southwestern Illinois coal fields will result from the 2% sulfur limit on coal adopted by the Missouri Air Conservation Commission, Eugene Hughes, president of the Progressive Mine Workers of America, said Thursday afternoon.

He said approximately 1500 workers in the Belleville district alone will be affected. This total includes members of both the United Mine Workers of America and the Progressive Mine Workers.

"A 2% sulfur limit would rule out the use of coal deposits in the Missouri area," Hughes said. "This ruling will not only hurt miners who are now working, but also those who have retired and depend on the mines for their pensions, medical care and other benefits."

"This standard seems unnecessarily harsh since I understand that the Public Health Service will be reducing sulfur dioxide in the suburbanized area by 1970 to be met by using 3.5% sulfur coal."

Optimists Learn Objectives Of Center for Handicapped

Granite City Optimists held their luncheon meeting and program Thursday at the Quad-Cities Production Center, 2009 Madison avenue, with 30 members and guests taking part in St. Patrick's Day meal of corned beef and cabbage.

Donald Raymond E. Troyer, Optimist vice-president, was in charge and welcomed a visitor, Jack Williams, the guest of Robert Brave.

The guest speaker, Reed Zentner, administrator of Community Services for Specialized Services, Inc., sponsors of the local production center, was introduced by Edward L. Stone, program chairman and immediate past president of the Optimist Club.

Zentner explained the objectives of the sheltered workshop program which provides training and employment for the mentally and physically handicapped. Currently, 30 trainees are working at the Granite City center, the administrator said. A further 28 persons from the local area presently are undergoing an evaluation and testing period at the Alton center, he advised the service club members.

Zentner pointed out that for the first time many trainees are using public transportation in order to get to the center and are learning to adhere to a regular schedule.

The administrator said that with the cooperation of Bi-State Regional bus service general trustees have overcome one of the principal stumbling blocks to outside training programs, the ability to get out on their own. Careful attention is paid to bus schedules and Bi-State drivers have been most helpful in enabling those unfamiliar with public transportation to reach their destination, Zentner explained. He added that since the Quad-Cities Production Center opened three months ago, six trainees have been placed in outside employment.

In other business, Stone reported that the Optimist nominating committee and presented the following slate of officers, as candidates for the April election:

President, Dr. Troyer; vice-presidents, Herman Moulder and Fred Cunningham; secretary, John Solenberger; treasurer, Floyd Mitchell; sergeant-at-arms, Wendell McIlvory; three-year board members, John Stevens, Gene H. Sternberg and Hector Ashah; and two-year board member to complete an unexpired term, George Reeves. Current president is Wilbur Tribes.

Elizabeth March Placed In Home After Hearing

Little Elizabeth March, the infant who was abandoned on the parking lot at St. Elizabeth Hospital on March 2, officially became a ward of the court Thursday.

She was placed in a foster home by James Reidelberger, chief probation officer, following an adjudicatory hearing conducted by Associate Circuit Judge I. H. Strenger in family court on Thursday.

A final hearing to determine the baby's future is to be held within 30 days, Reidelberger said. No applications for adoption are being accepted at this time.

Parents of the child, who had a right to claim her at the hearing, did not appear. Testifying were Mrs. Maxine Jones, an ERG technician at the hospital who found the baby at 5:45 in the morning; Mrs. Viola Schmiegel, an emergency room nurse at the hospital; and a police officer who investigated the case.

The girl was about two hours old when she was found by Mrs. Jones close to the wheel of an auto. The blonde, blue-eyed infant weighed seven pounds, 12 1/2 ounces and was in good condition. P.M. Thursday.

She was kept at the hospital until the court hearing was conducted. Her name was selected by Reidelberger, who utilized the name of the hospital and the month of her birth. He declined to disclose the location of the foster home to prevent nuisance calls to the foster parents.

Union Holds Meetings For Hospital Employees

Two meetings of St. Elizabeth Hospital employees interested in the organization of a State, County and Municipal Employees Union Local were held Thursday afternoon and night for a discussion of procedure in what is expected to be a move for negotiation of a contract.

Union officials said both sessions, one in the afternoon and another at night to employees of all hospital shifts could attend, were well attended, but declined to release any figures.

The meetings were arranged by Harold Benedict, Peoria, international representative of the union. An organizational drive was conducted at the hospital several months ago, and Benedict said that "well over a majority" of the hospital workers eligible for membership were signed.

Hospital authorities have not commented on a request of Local 6 and the Cooks and Waitresses Union, for recognition of the union and contract negotiations. The union is enrolling members of the hospital's kitchen staff as part of the union organization move.

Further meetings are to be held next week at a date yet to be set, Benedict said. Further plans of the union probably will be announced at that time, he added.

Hospital Reviews Position On Unions and Employees

The position of St. Elizabeth Hospital in face of recent union organizing meetings for the hospital's 550 employees was outlined today by Sister Mary Thomas, administrator, who pointed out the hospital gives services to individuals, of the hospital, "and cannot risk interference with these services that involve life or death consequences."

"We recognize the fine role that union organizations have played in the past, but there is real question as to their function in the hospital field," the Sister said. She added that throughout the country, information counseled by hospital associations, show that about 6% of the nation's hospitals have contracts with unions, and in Illinois only one voluntary hospital, the University of Chicago clinics, has community contracts. The TV sets, portable models, were among about 15 which were stolen from the Tri-City Radio Club, 2600 North street, on March 5.

Ten of the sets were recovered last week in West Granite, and the other five, from a home at 2454 Missouri avenue, was charged with burglary.

The plywood was stolen Feb. 22 from Howard Foley, a contractor, at a project at Arlington Heights.

Poe is being held at the Madison county jail as a parole violator and is to be returned to the Missouri penitentiary for the remaining 10 months of a sentence for burglary in Missouri.

$76 Million in State Pay Hikes Proposed

Annual service increases for employees under the personnel code whose salary ranges contain specified steps, and who perform acceptably, are provided in the plan. On July 1 all employees are to be placed on proper levels and thereafter would receive the annual service increases.

Job Plan for Grads

Employment by the Illinois Division of Highways will be available this summer to 400 male high school graduates who do not intend to enter college next fall. Principals of high schools throughout the state have details of the employment program. Half of the 400 candidates selected for employment under the program will take an engineering technician course at the University of Illinois during the summer of 1967. Tuition will be paid by the Division of Highways. The others will be assigned to highway construction projects this summer and sent to the university for special studies in the summer of 1968.

Students and those assigned to construction projects will receive salaries of $350 a month at the start of the program. This will be increased to $400 a month after 11 weeks, which is when the first training course will be completed.

Applications of interested students should be received by District Engineers of the Division of Highways by March 27. District offices of the Division of Highways, to which application should be made, are located in Chicago, Elgin, Ottawa, Paris, Peoria, Dixon, Effingham, Springfield, East St. Louis and Carbondale.

No Waiting List
Conversion of a men's dormitory to an infirmary within the last month resulted in eliminating the waiting list for sick, injured or disabled veterans at the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Home.

The converted 96-bed unit, which has brought the number of hospital and infirmary beds in the home to 485, will be filled within the next few months, Superintendent James A. Schapers has announced.

Schapers said an estimated 120,000 world war I veterans, whose average age is 72 years, are living in Illinois. "We still have sufficient quarters for those who can walk to our dining hall for their meals," he said.

Camping on Increase

Camping at Illinois State Parks and other recreational areas approached a saturation point in 1966 with a gain of 4.9% over 1965, according to James W. McMillen, supervisor of state parks. Out-of-state campers increased 3.44%. Camping groups averaged 3.32 persons.

Use of trailers showed the largest increase, 14.3%. This follows the national trend as more and more families give up tent camping for the convenience and comfort of trailers.

Lincoln's New Salem State Park accounted for the largest number of campers—44,530. This is a slight drop from the 46,914 campers at New Salem in 1965. The collection of camping fees for 1966, however, with doubling and tripling of charges for the use of sites, was up 100.46%. This $112,873.40 goes into the Park Fund for extension and improvement of camping facilities.

Tee Clipping a Must

Did you ever clip a duck's toe? If you own captive ducks that resemble wild mallards in size and color, you must, according to a new federal regulation. The regulation affects shooting, serving operators, game breeders, dog trainers, field trial operators, farmers and anyone having tame mallards according to the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Within 60 days after March 1, the rear end of the right foot of all captive mallards must be removed. Mallards not clipped will be considered wild ducks and federal laws on hunting and possession will apply to them.

A mallard's hind toe is not well supplied with blood, is insensitive, and is of little use to it. The wound heals within a week or so. A wire cutter or sharp knife may be used to remove the toe.

State Bank Totals

The office of the Commissioner of Banks and Trust Companies has announced that there are 640 Illinois banks in operation as of Dec. 31, 1966. They reported net assets of $9,765,664.00 and total deposits of $8,843,770,527.

The 43 state banks in the city of Chicago had resources of $4,910,578,331 and deposits of $4,427,349,100. The remaining 500 banks in the state had resources of $4,832,707,659 and showed deposits of $4,416,421,427.

Clark at Ft. Sackville

JOHN W. ALLEN

Southern Illinois University
There are many days that merit special observance. One such day was Feb. 25. It was on this day in 1779 that British General Hamilton surrendered Fort Sackville at Vincennes to 26-year-old Col. George Rogers Clark. With that surrender the British relinquished control of the Old Northwest and the American Colonies acquired a territory that now is the home of 20 million people.

The combined number of combatants from both sides was insignificant and casualties were negligible. By every measure except results it was a little affair. It is only within a lifetime that people have come to appreciate the full significance of it all.

With the sesquicentennial of Illinois statehood coming next year it may be well to briefly review the accomplishments of George Rogers Clark and his men in and for the state. When all is said, it is not far wrong to borrow and apply a more modern phrase—"Never was so much demanded of so few."

In School 8 Months

Clark was born on a Virginia plantation adjoining the Jefferson birthplace. His total schooling was about eight months. He was of careful study he became a competent surveyor and was locating and surveying tracts of land in Kentucky before he was assigned to military duty. He commanded a company in Lord Dunmore's War.

When Kentucky became a county of Virginia, Clark became a major of militia and was at 24 entrusted with the defense of the Kentucky settlements. He was a man of striking appearance, six feet tall, Auburn haired, athletic and weighed about 180 pounds. Having been entrusted with defense of the Kentucky country, Clark began to plan accordingly. Patrick Henry approved his plans but promised he would be awaiting Indian attacks, Clark had plans to carry the war to them and to the British whom he charged with encouraging Indian attacks. He would move against Detroit.

Clark began to recruit soldiers and gather supplies for his, as yet, unrevealed attack on the British post. This was in May 1778. By late June he had gathered a force of less than 200 on Corn Island in the Ohio near Louisville. This was far less than the 750 he wanted for the planned attack.

Undaunted, Clark decided instead to drive the British from their settlements. Instead of awaiting Indian attacks, he accordingly left the island near Louisville, ran the rapids of the Ohio during an eclipse of the sun and three days later reached the mouth of the creek a mile upstream from the site of Fort Mifflin. A defense the French had built in 1782 and later abandoned. Here he pulled his boats ashore, hid them and spent the night.

March On Kaskaskia

The next morning he and his men began their march toward Kaskaskia, about 90 air miles away. On July 4 Kaskaskia was in Clark's possession. The British in the Cahokia region promptly pledged allegiance to the Colonies. An emissary to Vincennes secured their pledge of allegiance and possession of Fort Sackville. Thus far Clark's campaign had been much like a picnic.

General Hamilton, hearing of Clark's advances, decided to retreat. He therefore left Detroit, reached Vincennes and without conflict retook the fort by mid-December. Knowing the hazards of a winter campaign across an uninhabited trackless and marshy wilderness, Hamilton decided to await spring to continue the attack. Most of his soldiers and Indian allies accordingly were sent back to Detroit and Hamilton sat down to wait. Clark, learning of Hamilton's plans, knew that spring would find him practically helpless against the superior forces that Hamilton would master. He, therefore, decided upon a hazardous march.

A tractor-trailer truck driven by William Adkins, Dallas, Tex., backed into the auto of William E. Lowery, Centreville, at 5:15 p.m. Thursday at Niedringhaus avenue and the railroad tracks.

Bizarre Military Venture

This decision launched one of the most bizarre and bizarre military ventures in the nation's history. At two o'clock on the afternoon of Feb. 4, 1779, Clark dispatched the supply boat "Wildcat" to Vincennes by way of the Kaskaskia, Mississippi, Ohio and Wabash rivers. On the next day he crossed the Kaskaskia with 170 men and began an incredible march across 180 miles of flooded, marshy and shelterless land toward Fort Sackville.

His little army's first night was spent in a camp three miles east of Sackville. Their records tell us that it was "rainy and disagreeable." The next night it was "rainy and cold . . . no tents."

On Feb. 7, they "traveled 9 leagues today no tents . . ."

Benjamin Harris, then Governor of Virginia dismissed Clark from the army on July 2, 1879.

He went to live in a two-room log cabin on the Indian shore overlooking Corn Island, unpaid by his State of Virginia . . .

Broken in health, crippled, blind, independent in spirit, Clark lived on poverty stricken, until 1818. He went to live his last few months in the home of a sister who carefully tended him . . .

It might benefit many of us to peruse on Feb. 25 and consider the service he rendered our country.

February Births, Deaths Decline; Marriages Up

Births recorded in Madison county during February included 127 boys and 117 girls, a sharp drop below the 139 boys and 139 girls reported for the same month a year ago, according to the office of Eulalia Hotz, Madison county clerk.

The total of 244 births recorded last month included two sets of twins, while the total of 278 births in February a year ago included three sets of twins.

The number of deaths in February declined only slightly from February 1966. Last month 162 deaths were recorded compared to the 166 figure of 1966.

Marriages numbered 159 throughout the county last month, compared to 139 in February 1966.

Milk Holdout by NFO Felt Slightly Here

Few problems from the milk holdout of National Farmer Organization members is expected in this area, Jon Dressel, of Ardross Foods, said Friday, two days after the withholding movement was launched.

Dressel said that only one farmer of 250 which supplies Ardross withheld his supply Friday.

The NFO has members in 25 states in which it is conducting the milk holdout in an effort to force a new contract of $6.05 per hundredweight compared with the present March rate of $5.60 for Class I milk.

St. Louis producers also reported a slight drop in milk sales. Two dairies reported receipts were less than one percent to 4% below normal. All producers agreed seasons on a able boosts in milk supplies will make up for any losses through withholding.

17,590 Cases a Year

Hospital's Emergency Dept. to be Expanded in New Bldg.

Major improvements in the busy emergency room department at St. Elizabeth Hospital have been undertaken in the past year as the hospital also achieved success in arranging for a full-time resident physician for the hours 6 p.m. to 6 a.m.

With the emergency room facilities open 24 hours a day, the hospital encountered the same problem as others throughout the state in keeping a resident doctor on call. The local staff was instrumental in getting the state legislature to permit foreign doctors to serve as residents.

"Our biggest problem has been to keep a resident, since they usually go on to start a private practice," Sister Mary Thomas, hospital administrator explained.

Under the present arrangement, the resident doctor is on duty from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on weekends. During the day, family physicians are subject to emergency call by individuals, and in the event an out-of-town person requires emergency care, doctors at the hospital staff are summoned.

48 Emergencies a Day
The emergency department has grown rapidly in recent years. Back in 1952, the hospital handled 378 emergency cases during the year—10 a day. Last year the total was 17,390 emergency cases—more than 48 a day.

The upsurge was steady with no declines during the 15-year period. The statistics are—1952, 378; 1954, 598; 1956, 928; 1958, 10,622; 1960, 12,249; 1962, 14,845; 1963, 16,107; and 1966, 17,390.

New and modern emergency room facilities are to be included in the first phase of the hospital's present $5,360,000 expansion and modernization program for which a $1,000,000-$1,500,000 fund-raising campaign is under way.

The new emergency room department will include three examining rooms and five treatment rooms, a trauma room, a waiting room, a consultation room, an observation room, nurses' station and storage utility area.

The present facilities, located at the south end of the hospital's 1931 wing, consist of three rooms for patient examination and treatment, along with a waiting room, which until recently also served for the monthly community immunization clinic, an office and supply storage.

Improving Facilities
While new emergency facilities are included in the hospital wing to be built along the Iowa street side of the hospital's property, improvements are continuing in the present emergency department, since the facilities are expected to be in use for at least two more years.

The hospital study by Dr. Anthony Rourke, hospital consultant, made public early last year stressed that the emergency department was "like Grand Central Station" with the corridor between treatment rooms used as a main entrance to the hospital.

A BUSY PLACE at St. Elizabeth Hospital is the emergency department where in 15 years the number of emergency cases has increased from an average of 10 a day to the present average of 48 a day.

This was corrected by limiting access to the area to emergency patients and to a demand for service to physicians and their patients.

Reason for Upsurge
"This is occasioned by the convenience to physicians for the times when their offices are closed, when they are tied up at the hospital and cannot get to their offices, when they know that the patient is going to require tests available only at the hospital and when they know that the patient will need consultation from other specialists at the hospital."

Advance Preparations
The purpose is to provide a means for ambulance drivers and police to advise the emergency room staff with the type of injury or illness case and the number of persons involved so preparations can be made while the patient or patients are en route. It already has proven its worth several times over.

In his study of St. Elizabeth Hospital's emergency department, Dr. Rourke pointed out: "As in most hospitals, emergency activity has grown astronomically from 378 visits in 1952 to 17,590 in 1966. It is further predicted that future growth will be equally dramatic."

"Not only will there be an increase of emergency activity, but there will be a demand for service to physicians and their patients."

Law Favored to Revoke Gambling Stamp or License

A legislative bill requiring Illinois tavern owners to give up their federal gambling stamps or their liquor license has been approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee which voted unanimously 11 to 0, for passage of the measure.

The Illinois Supreme Court in 1964 invalidated a rule of the State Liquor Control Commission with the same effect as the proposed bill.

The committee also gave its endorsement to a bill permitting municipalities to license bartenders. The local authority would be required to deny a license to any bartender violating gambling laws or selling liquor to a minor two years prior to applying for a license.

A bill requiring fluoridation of all public water supplies in Illinois was scheduled for hearing today before the Senate Public Welfare committee. Senator William Horsley (R) of Springfield, said he knows of no opposition in the Senate, but "that doesn't necessarily mean there won't be any."

Most Systems Fluoridated
Senator Horsley said he has been advised that 78% of the public water systems in Illinois now are fluoridated.

In other Assembly actions, the Illinois House approved a bill requiring state policemen to retire at age 65 and a law designed to upgrade property assessments by raising the pay of township assessors and requiring them to attend schools of instruction. Failure to attend the schools would result in forfeiture of half of the assessor's salary.

Three bills authorizing union contracts for police protection with nearby municipalities were passed by the House after they fell short of passage.

Poison Prevention Week Observance in State

National Poison Prevention Week is being observed in Illinois this week, and records show approximately 14,000 cases were reported involving children during 1966, with an estimated unreported additional 900 to 10,000 cases.

Approximately 50 deaths occur annually among Illinois children and many others suffer severe and permanent injuries due to accidental poisonings.

More than 12,000 of the 14,000 total cases occurred in children under four years of age, with toddlers claiming the highest number.

Aspirin remains the most serious threat to children. In 1963 it accounted for 30% of all accidental poisonings in children. In 1966 aspirin was responsible for 39%.

Coal to Gasoline Plant Urged for Local Area

U.S. Rep. Melvin Price of East St. Louis last week proposed the location of an $11.6 million coal to gasoline conversion pilot plant in St. Clair county.

He appeared before the House appropriations subcommittee to urge allocation of $3 million for the Office of Coal Research to complete planning and initiate construction of an H-coal process pilot plant.

The Office of Coal Research previously awarded a $2 million research contract to Hydrocarbon Research Inc. for the development of the H-coal process and eventual construction of a pilot plant utilizing the process. The H-coal process involves the hydrogenation of pulverized coal, leading to its conversion into gasoline and other oil products.

Camping at State Parks Surveyed by SIU Team

More than half of the overnight campers at Giant City State Park are weekend visitors, according to a recent Southern Illinois University study by Dwight R. McCurdy, assistant professor in forestry.

Giant City State Park is about 12 miles south of Carbondale in Jackson county and is one of the state's largest parks. Only 13% of the campers come from southern Illinois but nearly all are residents of the state. Studying the camping permits for 1965, McCurdy found campers generally came in groups of two to five persons, indicating single family groups. About one-sixth were groups of six to 10 camping together, needing larger than the average camp site.

McCurdy says surveys indicate the head of the camping family usually is relatively young, usually well educated, has a better than average income, and comes from an urban area.

The local, two-star metropolitan area, accounted for about 20% of the campers with another 12% coming from the Chicago area. As a result of McCurdy's findings improvements in camping facilities are being made at the park.

A fee of 50 cents a day was charged at both of the park's camping areas. These areas are provided with running water, pit toilets, picnic tables and campfire rings. Permits were issued for up to one week at the time of the study with the majority being issued for one or two nights on weekends.

Eighty-seven per cent of the campers came more than 50 miles to the park and more than 40% traveled more than 200 miles. The latter group consisted of mostly single family groups who stayed one night and intended to give farmers the incentive to strive for maximum yields. The contest will be continued in 1967.

Row-applied fertilizer should be put at least 1½ inches to the side and slightly below the seed level. "Pop-up" fertilizer placed in direct contact with the seed does not always cause injury, but is generally unsafe for soybeans.

Soybeans have the same pH requirements as corn. If you have a corn-soybean, cash-grain system, aim for a pH of 6.0 or slightly above. And aim for a pH of 6.5 or above if your cropping system includes alfalfa or clover.

Manganese deficiency causes yellow, stunted plants with green veins in the leaves — especially during cool, wet weather in late May and June. The deficiency is most common on sandy soils with a high pH.

Spraying 10 pounds of manganese sulfate containing 2.5 pounds of manganese on each acre is an effective treatment. Spray with 25 gallons of water when the beans are 6 to 10 inches tall.

Wayne and related soybean varieties often show iron deficiencies on soils with a pH of 7.4 or higher. The deficiency is limited to the top of the plant. Iron deficiencies are new in Illinois, and more research is needed to solve deficiency problems. Minnesota agronomists suggest a spray of ½ per cent solution of iron sulfate. The treatment usually needs to be applied at least twice.

Soybeans often outgrow iron deficiency symptoms. The effect on yield has not been measured in Illinois. A foliar application is suggested to correct deficiencies of manganese and iron. But no research is available to indicate that foliar applications of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium are profitable.

Many farmers wonder why soybean yields have not increased as much as corn yields during the past 10 years. The main difference is that soybeans do not respond like corn to early planting, high population, and large amounts of nitrogen.

SOYBEAN CONTEST RESULTS

Figures released by the Illinois Crop Improvement Association show that the 1966 Illinois Five Acre Soybean Yield Contest was the most successful one yet.

New highs were reached in the number of contestants, number of counties represented, and average yield.

Eighty-eight farmers completed the 1966 contest, out of 124 original entries. This almost triples the participation in 1965, when 42 farmers entered and 23 finished. In 1964, the first year of the contest, only 12 out of 16 entrants completed the contest.

Average yield among the contestants continued a steady climb, with the average for 1966 standing at 48.42 bushels per acre. John Reiser Jr. of Ashland continued his winning ways by placing first for the third consecutive year, with a yield of 70.98 bushels per acre. He planted Wayne soybeans May 10 in 30-inch rows at the rate of 80 pounds per acre. In addition to a pre-emergence herbicide treatment, Reiser cultivated once with a rotary hoe and once with a regular cultivator.

Wayne, a recently-released soybean variety, appeared to be gaining favor with the farmers who entered the contest. It was used by 35 of the contestants and averaged 50.35 bushels per acre. Wayne was the choice of the first, third, and fourth place winners, producing yields of 70.98, 59.85, and 59.07 bushels per acre. Clark was used by the second place winner, yielding 62.19 bushels per acre. Harosoy averaged 58.86 bushels for the fifth place winner. Other popular varieties were Shelby, Clark 63, Harosoy 63, and Amsoy.

In the early 1950's, 58,000 acres of soybeans were grown in Illinois, yielding an average of 11.9 bushels per acre. In the 1960-64 period, almost 5,000,000 acres were grown, yielding 27.5 bushels per acre. Soybeans have become Illinois' second most important field crop. It is with this in mind that the Illinois Crop Improvement Association in cooperation with the Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, sponsors the Five-Acre Soybean Yield Contest. While soybeans have come a
